SURPRISING CURE OF STOMACH TROUBLE

When you have trouble with your stomach or chronic constipation, don't imagine that your case is beyond help just because your doctor fails to give you relief. Mrs. G. Stangle, Plainfield, N. J., writes, "For over a month past I have been troubled with my stomach. Everything I ate upset it terribly. One of Chamberlain's advertising booklets came to me. After reading a few of the letters from people who had been cured by Chamberlain's Tablets, I decided to try them and can now eat almost everything that I want." For sale by all dealers.

Lethbridge Picnic A Grand Success

Thursday was surely a red-letter day in the history of The Pass, and more especially in the history of the rising town of Blairmore, when the Independent Order of Oddfellows, under the auspices of the three Lethbridge lodges, gathered for their annual picnic.

This is the first Oddfellows' picnic to be held at this point, and that everyone who attended were impressed with the adaptability of Blairmore as a holiday resort there is no doubt, for all seemed to wear smiles broader than their features could really accommodate and speak in terms of our scenery, mountain air and hospitality which give assurance that this burg will be made a rendezvous as a picnic resort and magnet for excursionists.

The town was handsomely dressed in colors befitting the occasion and displaying taste on the part of the decorating committees. Citizens in general turned their hands to lend assistance in the effort to make Blairmore appear slightly more than the ordinary, which task would appear an impossibility to those whose first opportunity it was to see even what we have to boast of in location and scenery.

The special excursion train from eastern points arrived at 11:30. This train was made up of twelve cars and loaded over eight hundred people, most of whom were from Lethbridge. Many hundreds also arrived by the "local" from west about an hour later.

The members of the local lodge were lined up near the station ready to have their forces augmented by Macleod, Pincher Creek, Cowley, Monarch, Taber, Grass Lake, Claresholm, Coleman, Michel and the three Lethbridge lodges. The procession comprised over nine hundred men, including the Coleman brass band.

Feats formed an important feature of the procession. That of the F. M. Thompson Co. displaying their line of business and conveying a Mulat coffee grinder, took first prize. This float was certainly the work of art and its neatness and blending of colors were really attractive. The second prize was awarded Messrs. Berry and Doubt, who demonstrated the Oddfellows' hospital work. Their float was eloquent of much attention and admiration. The ship represented the sickbed, the patient, nurse, doctor and attendants, and was certainly unique as well as very original. Third in order was a representation of Smallwood's blacksmith shop, which was also good. Brisco's Store for men took the fourth prize. The judges in the float competition were C. J. Eckstorm and Fritz Sick, of Lethbridge, and Rev. W. H. Muncester, of Blairmore. Starting from the depot at 12 sharp, the procession marched to Seventh Avenue, where they turned to State Street, thence south by Tenth Avenue, west by Victoria Street and north to the picnic grounds via Sixth Avenue. Here preparations had been made for the visitors and for the carrying out of the long programme.

After the contents of many baskets had been ravaged and the waitresses at the hotels and restaurants had been taxed in their efforts to satisfy the hungry folk from the prairie, the programme was started at 2 p. m. The programme was in the following order:

Running Broad Jump.—W. Turner, 2nd H. E. Lyon.
Hop-Step-and-Jump.—W. Turner, 2nd Harold George Bigelow.
High Jump.—J. A. McDonald, 2nd W. Turner.
Ladies' Race (50 yards)—Miss M. Boyd, 2nd Miss Hilda Doubt.
100-Yard Dash (men)—Arthur Williams, 2nd Alex. Easton.
50-Yard Dash (boys under 16)—W. J. Evans, 2nd Donald McLeod.
50-Yard Dash (boys under 10)—Edith Boyd, 2nd George Lyon.
50-Yard Dash (girls under 10)—Miss Drummond, 2nd Miss Baird.
Pole Vault.—H. E. Lyon, 2nd W. Turner.
Fat Men's Race.—R. W. Thompson (weight 240), 2nd L. H. Putnam (weight 225)—in eleven feet.

Oddfellows 100-Yard Dash.—H. E. Lyon, 2nd D. Lewis.
Sack Race (50 yards)—Arthur Williams, 2nd D. Lewis.
Three-and-Sevile Race.—Miss Gladys Purvis, 2nd Miss Grace Turner.
Putting 16-lb. Shot.—James Boyd, 2nd J. Payne, of Lethbridge.

Three-Legged Race.—Williams and Smith, 2nd Bond and Patterson.

Blairmore defeated both Lethbridge and Coleman in football, all the goals being shot by Bigelow.

The Coleman brass band of twelve pieces rendered good music throughout the day.

On the grounds were a number of refreshment booths, which assisted materially to fill the requirements of all present.

A large dancing pavilion was in readiness on the grounds. This was kept busy by the lovers of the terpsichorean art.

The committee in charge deserve great credit for the successful issue of Blairmore's Red-Letter-Day. Not a hitch occurred anywhere in the day's proceedings, and if anyone failed to acquire their share of pleasure and enjoyment the committees are not to blame.

This is the second successful picnic held in Blairmore this season, and they form but the initial of a long list of picnics and excursions which are sure to be allured by the attractiveness of Blairmore for such events.

Officers of Crows' Nest Encampment Installed

C. Lowther, D.D.G.P., and G.W. Patterson, P.C.P., of Lethbridge, came to town on Wednesday night and installed the officers of Crows' Nest Encampment No. 8. The new officers are:

Chief Patriarch, W. J. Bartlett.
High Priest, R. C. Green.
Senior Warden, H. B. Berry.

Financial Scribe, H.G. Bigelow.
Treasurer, J. Montalbet.
Junior Warden, F. E. Hinds.
T. D. Buncie came over from Creston this week.

Council Meeting On Monday Night

The adjourned meeting of the Blairmore council was held on Monday night, Mayor Lyon, councillors Drain, Hinds, Sinclair, McLeod and Beebe being present.

A number of correspondences were received, which included letters from the Pacific Coast Pipe Co., W. M. Campbell, Forest City Paving Co., H. T. Lloyd, C. H. Burgess & Co.

W. M. Campbell on behalf of W. A. Malcolm, informed the town council that unless payment is immediately made steps would be taken to recover the amount due W. A. Malcolm for lots agreed upon by the town last year. The lots in question were chosen last year by the ratepayers as the most desirable location for the fire hall and municipal offices. The secretary was instructed to write Mr. Campbell, informing him that as soon as debentures were marketed the lots would be paid for.

H. T. Lloyd, who had been requested to examine the water supply available for power to generate a lighting system for the town, reported that the amount of pressure at the present intake of the dam was insufficient and that in order to generate a current sufficient to light the town of Blairmore it would be necessary to secure a greater pressure. Mr. Lloyd gave an estimate of the probable cost of such a system as was necessary, also of the cost of erecting new pole lines.

A report from the chief of police for the six months ending June 30th was read and received.

The following accounts were approved: C.P.R. for lettergrams $3.40, W. A. Beebe for rent $80.00, Blairmore Hardware Co. $4.50, W. J. Bartlett $12.00.

Beebe-Drain—That By-Law No. 25 be given its first reading. Carried.

Hinds-McLeod—That By-Law No. 25 be given its second reading. Carried.

Sinclair-Drain—That By-Law No. 26 be given its third reading. Carried.

By-Law No. 26, to provide for the borrowing of the sum of $8,250.00 to meet the requirements of the town until the taxes are collectable was finally passed.

On motion By-Law No. 21, was read a second and third time. This is a by-law governing the waterworks system. No other business the meeting adjourned at 9.45.

Summer School At Pincher Creek

Arrangements have been about completed for the big summer school which opens here on August 12 under the auspices of the Methodist church of Alberta. Formerly there were three of these schools held in the province each summer, but this year the number has been cut down to two. Notwithstanding this curtailment, however, the officers of the local church have been able to secure one of the schools for Pincher Creek.

These summer schools mean a good deal to the communities in which they are held. They are widely advertised all over the country, and it is quite safe to say that Pincher Creek will receive more good publicity through the summer school than it will from any other source this year.

A number of the best speakers in the country will be present at this school, including J. P. Westman who delighted a Pincher Creek audience a short time ago with his illustrated lecture. The mornings will be given up to the various branches of religious study, while the afternoons will be occupied with organized sport of various kinds, and the evenings will be taken up with lectures and other methods of entertainment.

While this school is under the jurisdiction of the Methodist church, it is nevertheless non-denominational and any person may attend and go into camp.

Department to Cope With Serious Problem

The financial conditions of the last few months have made it necessary for the Department of Neglected Children to do an extremely large amount of work. The work has been so extensive that it has almost been impossible to cope with the situation. During the past three months something over one hundred children have been placed in foster homes and something over six hundred cases have been dealt with.

The brunt of the effect of depression naturally comes to those who are employed on intermittent work at low wages with the result that there is more or less of a tendency to family desertion during these times than during more prosperous times of plenty of work and good wages.

The problem of family desertion is a serious one and has to be handled in a delicate way, as in many cases the mother and children deserted are anxious that no publicity shall be given to the family desertion and thereby many men escape punishment, which is really their due.

Men who are guilty of family desertion are liable to prosecution under the criminal code and can be sent to gaol for long terms and it is the intention of the Alberta authorities to prosecute to the limit those who disregard their responsibilities in this connection.

It is impossible to expect any good to come from the cowardly action of family desertion. In many cases if a little stamina is used the results will be satisfactory in the long run, because it will be possible by a certain amount of sacrifice to tide over the situation and in the event of conditions coming right again the home will be held together and the man have the family rights which he has obligated himself to by marriage and the rearing of a family.

The cowardly action of family desertion has not yet got for any man a large degree of satisfaction. A helpless child thrown on a community, in many cases, is possibly better off without a father than with the stamp of man who is unwilling to desert his responsibilities, as a father, but in the majority of cases the men are stampeded by circumstances and do not have enough grit to fight the situation through. This is an unfortunate condition of affairs and it is one which can only be remedied by the individuals looking at the matter fairly and squarely and recognizing their responsibilities.

Wives and families as a general rule are more than willing to face the circumstances to which the bread winner is exposed and to do more than their share to keep up the family. It is a cowardly action to desert a wife and leave on her hands a number of children who are helpless and dependent.

The circumstances surrounding the cases of desertion which have come to the attention of this Department during the last few months as a general rule are inexcusable. Men who have contracted extravagant habits in good times and it is not always possible to stop these habits and have possibly no info debt and finally skip the country because they have become afraid of the consequences. If a man is honest and fair there is no reason why he should not go to his creditors with a fair statement of his condition and have the matter properly adjusted.

While the Attorney General's Department is more than willing to assume any responsibilities in cases of actual need and child neglect, they are determined that the matter of family desertion must stop and examples be made of those who are playing the part of the coward and trying by unfair means to throw the responsibility of their families upon the shoulders of other people.

James Conmee Dies in Arizona

Port Arthur, July 25.—James Conmee, ex-M.P., died at Prescott, Arizona, today, which was the culmination of an illness of five years. His illness became serious after the session in 1910. Contrary to the advice of his physician he was a candidate in the Thunder Bay and Rainy River riding in the re-election campaign of 1911. The election was defeated and Mr. Conmee, after the defeat of the Laurier government, was seriously ill and retired from the contest. He left then in search of health, going first to Huron Lake, N. Y., and then to Arizona.

Mr. Conmee was a very prominent man of affairs and public man. He was born in Sydenham, Ont., on October 13, 1848. He received his early training at Owen Sound and interested himself early in life in lumbering, mining and contracting. He built several miles of the C.P.R. and the Atlantic Central railway, and later the Canadian Northern railway. He was a strong advocate of New Ontario. He was the first president of the Ontario mining institute in 1894. He was later mayor of Port Arthur and occupied many public positions in the city of Port Arthur where he spent most of his life.

But he was best known as a public man. He was elected to the Ontario legislature in 1885, 1896, 1900, 1904. He resigned to contest the Dominion riding of Nipissing in 1906, but was defeated. After the election it was found that his resignation was not technically effective and he was still a member of the provincial legislature. He was re-elected in 1908 and 1910. He resigned in 1911 and was elected to the Dominion house as member for Thunder Bay and Rainy River.

He served in the Eighth New York Cavalry under General Custer in the American war. He was married in 1874 to Emily Florence Cox of Montreal. His family includes a wife, who survives him, Mrs. Whiston, Mrs. M. J. Kelly, Miss Louise Conmee and Arthur E. Conmee. He was a Liberal and a Roman Catholic.

Mr. Conmee was a very forceful man.

Pleasure Seekers From Macleod

A party of pleasure seekers motored to the Rocky Mountain Sanatorium for the week end, from Macleod. The party was composed of Mr. and Mrs. T. Dickson, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Aldham and son, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. F. Brown, Miss Gudy, Miss Brown, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Leath, Miss Matheson, Dr. and Mrs. Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Ferguson and sons. They left for the return trip to Macleod on Sunday evening. The party has made several trips to the Sanatorium, and always seemed pleased with the resort and the scenery and the treatment.

Sanatorium Cribbage League

The big summer tournament which has been in progress between the guests of the Sanatorium, is creating considerable interest of late, and as a result the tennis courts and other pleasure resorts in that locality have become literally disengaged.

Those taking in the tournament are Mrs. A. C. Beach, J. C. Bond, P. Carruthers, S. G. Lake, H. Moore, L. Ryan, T. Smith, N. Snelton, H. N. Wiest and Mrs. K. Wiest.

Four hundred games have to be played. At the end of the first week, Carruthers had leading percentage and bids fair to be the winner. Excitement is running high, especially around the bulletin board, where the score man has to use a cat-o-nine tails in order to keep intensely interested parties back.

CAUSES OF STOMACH TROUBLES

Sedentary habits, lack of outdoor exercise, insufficient mastication of food, constipation, a torpid liver, worry, a dainty, over-refined, partaking of food and drink not suited to your age and occupation. Correct your habits and take Chamberlain's Tablets and you will soon be well again. For sale by all dealers.

Rev J. C. Symon will deliver his lecture entitled "Unopened Parables" at the Central Baptist church on Monday night next. Everybody welcome. A collection will be taken.

A bold attempt at burglary was made at the bedroom of F. E. Hinds at Kenzie last week. A young man was effecting an entrance through a front door when the squeaking of the hinges woke the occupants. A mile-a-minute race was accomplished by the bold chap following a rear and rush from the inside.

To Ensure Protection
Of Forest Reserves

It has been a well defined policy of the Dominion Government ever since the Forestry Branch was created, to set aside non agricultural lands for forest reserves as rapidly as accurate forestry surveys of such land to be made so that if possible all the non-agricultural lands in western Canada
would be aggregated as Forest Reserves before the incoming settlers took up homesteads in these districts. As a result of this policy, there were at the beginning of the year, twenty-five Dominion Forest Reserves in the four western provinces with an area of twenty-five thousand, one hundred and forty square miles. By the amendment of the Dominion Forest Reserves Act passed on June 6th, 1912, five new reserves were created, and the boundaries of several other reserves extended, making a total of ten thousand, eight hundred and thirty two square miles of newly reserved area, which added to that already under reservation makes almost thirty six thousand square miles
under Dominion Forest Reserves.

One of the largest single areas newly reserved was an addition of two thousand, six hundred and eight-ty-four square miles to the Rocky Mountains Forest Reserve. Ever since the Rocky Mountains Park in the neighborhood of Banff, was engaged by the Government in 1885, the reservation of the non agricultural lands on the east slope and foothills of the Rockies has been gradually extended, until now the reserved area stretches from the International boundary line north west fully five hundred miles. The purpose of this reservation policy in this case has been two fold. Not only will this area under forest management produce a perpetual yield of timber to supply the needs of the settlers in Alberta and Saskatchewan, but the forests will act as reservoirs to regulate and maintain an even flow of waters in the great rivers of the plains which have their source in this watershed. The Dominion Government is profiting by the experience of the United States, where in 1911,
the Weeks Bill was passed making provision for the expenditure of nine million dollars for the requirement of land located on the head waters of navigable streams, which lands had previously been sold to private individuals, stripped of their forest growth by axe and fire, and are now being bought back by the United States Government to be reforested, in order to put a stop to the floods and erosion on the rivers
having their source in these denuded areas.

As far back as 1836, Mr. J. S. Dennis, O. T. S. Chief Inspector of Surveys and Irrigation, in Canada
speaking of the forests on the East slope and foothills of the Rockies, reported, "With the destruction of these forests will come the sudden freshets and rapid run off of the moisture from this area. The permanence of our water supply is therefore largely dependant upon the protection of the forest at present covering our watershed and this protection can only be secured by taking steps to prevent the devastating fires which annually sweep over large portions of the area."

The Rocky Mountains Forest Reserve contains the head waters of five great rivers, the Missouri, the North Saskatchewan, the South Saskatchewan, the Athabasca and the Peace. All this water descends from an elevation of eight to ten thousand feet in the mountains to an elevation of about three thousand feet in the foothills, and in this rapid drop the forested slopes play an immensely important part in preventing freshets and erosion. Also by regulating the water flow, these forested areas make possible the irrigation of the millions of acres of arid land in Southern Alberta.

It is to maintain the forest cover
on this otherwise non-productive
area, that the Rocky Mountains Forest Reserve was created. Only when set aside as a permanent Reserve, can the Dominion Government afford to make the costly improve-ments necessary for the effective regulation of forest fires. Only about ten per cent of this Reserve carries a stand merchantable timber, the remaining ninety per cent being either barren land above timber line or covered with young growth, mostly of lodgepole pine. If fires be kept out, this young growth will in a few years attain merchantable size and be a source of timber supply to the settlers eastward from its border, where, for five hundred miles, there is absolutely no tree growth. It will also furnish mine-props to the many con-miners now being operated on the Reserve. It has been estimated by Geological survey that over twenty-two and one-half billion tons of coal exist in the Alberta coal fields,

the mining of which will require over forty-five billion tons of fuel of mining props, the product of one million acres for sixty years. If the fires are not kept out this young growth
will be destroyed, there will be no mature trees left to reseed the burnt area and a vast barren will be the ultimate result.

There can be no question as to the advantage of making these reserves forests. The only possible criticism is that not enough care has been taken to exclude agricultural lands. But before any reserves were created, extensive surveys of such areas
have been made by technical Forest-guards who take Topography, soil, climate, elevation and timber into consideration when determining the boundary of the Reserves. This has been the basis of determining the boundary of the new addition to the Rocky Mountains Reserve. In general it is found that an elevation of four thousand feet marks the extreme limit where it is possible to grow agricultural crops and above that if the land is reserved, consisting mostly of a gradually rising succession of hills and muskegs. Wherever possible, natural boundaries were selected to secure the best protection of the reserve from fire.

In some cases large tracts of grazing land extend inward along the river-valleys and grazing will be permitted, under permit, on these areas. There are many such valleys in the Porcupine Hills, but the reservation will not interfere with grazing rights and will prevent the rapid destruction by fire and axe, of the country of Douglas fir, which originally entirely covered these high, steep slopes. Mr. Edgar, B. S. P., reports that here the timber will soon be cut off especially on the eastern side, leaving bare rocky hillsides.
Mr. McDougall, another technical Forester reports that "unless the fires can be effectively checked, the day is not far distant when the forest cover will have vanished completely from the Porcupine Hills." It is to prevent this and to provide for a permanent supply of timber as well as an endowment of water, that these new reservations have been made.

SHE WAS HELPLESS FOR TWO YEARS

WHY MRS. BALDWIN RECOMMENDS DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

She Could Find Nothing to Cure Her Rheumatism Till She Tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. These are the words of Mrs. W. A. Baldwin, a highly respected resident of this place. And Mrs. Baldwin gives her reasons.

"I was nearly helpless with rheumatism for two years," she states, "I tried medicine from the doctor, and I tried several other remedies but nothing helped me. Then one of my neighbors advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I bought four boxes, and they helped almost from the first. I have used nearly two dozen boxes and am nearly cured."

That rheumatism is one of the results of diseased kidneys is again shown in Mrs. Baldwin's case. She had headaches, stiffness of the joints and backache, her sleep was broken and unrefreshing, and she was always tired and nervous. Her limbs swelled and she was always thirsty. These are all symptoms of diseased kidneys. When she cured her kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills, the symptoms vanished, and so did the rheumatism.

The Johnsons, according to a recent story, had an old hen who insisted upon neglecting her comfortable nest to lay a daily egg in the coal cellar. I can't think, friend Mrs. Johnson, as she and her small son, together looked at that particular egg, why this one hen insists upon using the coal bin.

Why, that's easy, mother, exclaimed Joe, in astonishment. "John, she's seen the sign. Now is the time to lay in your coal."

A bomb exploded at an observatory! Evidently a desire to make them see stars.

The One in Command

Who's that impressive looking woman over yonder?

That's Mrs. Peckham. She's a remarkable strong-minded woman, and they do say that she commands a very large salary.

How does she earn it?

She teaches in a school. Her husband earns it and she commands it.

In the lobby of a Washington hotel the other evening they were talking about big legal fees when Representative Keating cited a case.

Some time since, according to the representative, a man fell into an open coal hole, and for damages and legal fees a substantial amount. When he received a bill from his lawyer, however, he was stunned, and, as soon as he could get into his hustling shape he hastened to see him.

Your bill is outrageous! exclaimed the client to the legal one. It is more than three-fourths of the amount that I recovered.

Quite true, was the calm response of the lawyer, but you mustn't forget that I furnished the skill and legal learning for the case.

Yes, excitedly cried the client, but I furnished the money.

Oh, as far as that goes, was the scornful reply of the lawyer, anybody can fall down a coal hole!

The day was warm, the children restless, the teachers impatient. One early haired boy was moving his jaw faster with chewing gum than his brain had ever been known to work. His feet were in the aisle. A smile was on the face of more than one pupil when the teacher said:

Take that gum out of your mouth and put your feet in.

AFTER EFFECT OF FEVERS.

Banished Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Following wasting disease, such as fever, many people find it difficult to regain their former strength. They become breathless and tired out at the least exertion; their appetite is feeble and they often feel as though death was staring them in the face. The trouble lies with the blood which has not returned to its normal condition and is lacking in the red corpuscles without which good health is impossible. It is at a time like this that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills prove their great tonic value. Every dose helps to make new, rich, red blood and cures weakness and vitality.

Mrs. Theodore Foley, Athens, Ont., says: "Following an attack of typhoid fever I was left in a very weak and debilitated condition. The smallest exertion left me weak and tired, and I was hardly able to get around, and naturally felt despondent. I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and they proved of the greatest benefit to me. I am now as well as ever, and can do all the work of my own work, and as we live on a farm it goes without saying that there is much to do. I feel therefore, that I cannot say too much in praise of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

After recovery from the after effects of fever, or grippe, or any acute disease, you should begin to get new strength by touching the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail for six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The angry citizen puffed into the office of the editor.

"See here, sir," he yelled, "what do you mean by publishing my resignation from my political office in this way?"

You gave the story out yourself, didn't you, the editor?

I did, replied the angry citizen. "But you got paper prints under the head of Public Improvements."

He thought he was a connoisseur, and he was lamenting the decadence of art.

Look, he said, at the great Italian school of painters. Look even at the old Greeks! Why, Zeuxipus painted grapes so naturally that birds came to peck at them!

He did, did he? said a hearer. That's nothing. I've got a friend who painted a dog so natural that he has to paint a muzzle on him to keep him from biling.

John Paul had lost his wife and on the morning of the funeral he called on Jessie Haxton, a former sweet heart, and asked her to marry him.

On reflection she thought she had been too hasty. So she watched for John returning from the graveyard. She knocked at the window, and called him in. Dead, John, she said, am I thinking I was gay an' hasty this morning, and no I think I'll accept your offer.

FARM WOODLOTS

Rapid increase in Value Through Timber Scarcity

With the increasing inaccessibility of the forests and the consequent high price of wood, the small wooded areas common on the farms of eastern Canada are also increasing in economic value. They frequently occupy spots unfitted for agriculture and with a little care can be made to furnish the owner with a continuous revenue in fuel, fence-posts, rafters, poles and structural timber.

Unfortunately these wood-lots are frequently allowed to deteriorate through carelessness or lack of knowledge on the part of the farmer who takes great care to farm his agricultural lands to the best advantage, but often fails to realize that by farming his wood-lot with the same care, he could get the same increase in productivity. Cattle and sheep are not permitted in a wood-lot, yet in the woodlot the cattle range at will, and instead of removing the weeds and brush, the farmer allows them to increase in number, removing only the trees best suited to his purpose.

To save the farmer from this, the Dominion Government has appointed a technical forester with headquarters at the Forestry Branch, Ottawa, whose principal duty is to answer at the request of the farmer who is anxious for advice will accept it when given. The expert looks over the wood-lot, determines what species of trees are best suited to the soil and to the local market, shows how to improve the character of the crop and its rate of growth by proper thinning, and, if desired, gives advice regarding the best methods of harvesting, felling-methods and the most profitable sizes to be grown.

For information on this subject can be obtained by writing to the Forestry Branch, Ottawa.

Which Two?

Do you see that handsome row of tall poplars on the Canadian shore, standing apparently at equal distances apart? Ask a melancholy-looking man at a group of passengers on the Fort Erie ferry-boat at Buffalo.

The group nodded assent.

Well, there's quite a lot connected with those trees, he continued. Some years ago there lived in a house at Buffalo, overlooking the river, a "bachelor" bachelor, whose only daughter was beloved by a young surgeon. The old man was inclined to question the doctor's skill in young road-and-ay, and to put him to the test he directed him to act on the Donjon shore a row of trees no two of which should be any farther apart than any other two.

The trial proved the doctor's incompetency, and forthwith he was forbidden the house, and in consequence provoked him to the river. Perhaps some of you gentlemen with keen eyes can tell which two trees are farthest apart.

The group took a critical view of the situation, and each member selected a different pair of trees. Finally, after much discussion, an appeal was made to the most experienced stranger to solve the problem.

The first and the last, said he, calmly, seemed to be clear and walking off with the air of a sage.

The Gentle Hereward stood on the porch of his second-hand clothing emporium. A customer, who had approached him and said, confidentially: "See that second-hand pair of trousers I bought of you last week? They're a good deal better than the new ones I bought of you."

Yes, I see.

And that new pair of trousers?

Well, I want that coat, but I ain't getting to pay the dealer's price for it because I'm not fit for that. Now, you're a Jew, and you can cut the other fellow down and make a bit for yourself. He'll sell at least a quid for that coat. Here's twelve-and-six. If you buy the coat for half a quid you make half a dollar. Is it a deal?

Mr. Levi clutched the coins and darted down the road. Two minutes later he was back with the coveted coat.

Good old Mr. Levi roared the weary-slaved man. Thought you'd pull it off. Cleared a bit, yourself, didn't you?

Vell, ma teir young gent, replied Mr. Levi, and do you see ma pranch shop and the price of the coat? You see only seven-and-sixpence, I think I am almost five shillings in on der coat!

Coal Prices Rise

Nova Scotia and Cape Breton collieries are this year quoting for short tons of coal the same prices which last year applied to long tons. This is equivalent to raising prices precisely 12 per cent.

Four-year-old Donald lived near the carbon works, and liked to watch the men coming from their work as black as if they worked in the coal mine. One evening as he was walking on the veranda for his black friends a negro passed the house with a white dog. Donald crawled upon a chair where he would have a better view and then, all excited, called: "Mamma, mamma, come quick and see the little carbon works baby."

A Dutchman was going to cross a bridge; he was riding in a little cart drawn by a goat. The toll man came and said: "Pay toll."

Here, you've got to pay toll before you can pass this bridge.

Yes, & cents to cross this bridge. After an argument the Dutchman paid the toll and went on. In the afternoon he came back again, only this time he had the goat sitting on the seat and he was dragging the cart himself.

Out came the toll man and said: "You know you've got to pay 5 cents."

The Dutchman shook his head, and pointing to the goat, said: "Don't talk to me—ask the driver."

Who can drink too much punch? It wasn't necessary to totter up. When I came in you were holding conversation with a piano lamp.

A Dutchman was relating his marvelous escape from drowning when thirteen of his companions were lost. He was in the cockpit of a boat, and he alone was saved.

And how did you escape this? asked one of his hearers.

I did not go in to bat, was the Dutchman's placid answer.

That house I have rented from you, said the ardent tenant, is horrible (draughty). When I was sitting in the middle of the room, my hair blew all over my face. Can't you do something?

Don't you think, sir, replied the house agent, snarlingly, it would be easier and cheaper for you to get your hair cut?

Little Willie—What is a lawyer, Pa?

A lawyer, my son, is a man who induces two other men to strip for a fight and then runs off with their clothes.

Symptoms Warn to Remove the Cause

The ordinary doctor spends his effort in relieving symptoms rather than removing the cause of trouble. It is often compelled to do this by the better judgment in order to satisfy the demands of his patients.

Symptoms are removed at a dreadful expense to the organs of the body. As an example, consider the effect on the nervous system of the powerful as to immediately stop headaches and other bodily pains.

The reaction is most exhausting on the system, and the result is that the patient and nerves return, and the system constantly grows weaker and weaker.

Symptoms Warn to Remove the Cause

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cures by removing the cause. Gradually and naturally this food cure revitalizes the feeble, wasted nerves, and by invigorating the system drives out pains, aches and distress.

This is Nature's way of curing disease. It is the only way. The treatment of symptoms is only makeshift way of avoiding pain. It overlooks the importance of symptoms as a warning of impending trouble.

To get well and keep well use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food until the blood is rich and red, the nerves are strong and the body filled with health and vigor.
